 Informational booth at Referral of TCS Family: Other

Please tell us a little about your child and your family. You are welcome (but not required) to attach a picture.

What attracted you to Takoma Children’s School, and how do you think your child would benefit from the Takoma Children’s School experience?

TCS welcomes a diverse group of children. Please describe any special needs (e.g. motor, language/speech, psychological, emotional, social) of your child that we should be aware of.

Family Involvement

Although TCS is not a co-operative pre-school, we are a non-profit community school that thrives on the support; involvement and knowledge of the students’ families. This is also a critical part of the Reggio Emilia philosophy. In this way, families are critical in supporting the health and continuity of the school. In what specific ways would you see your family contributing to the TCS community?
(Please include examples of past involvement with a school or in a community)

New Parent AND Alumni Involvement

New parents: indicate which activities one or both parents might consider assisting with during your child's Tenure.

Alumni families: Indicate which you DID participate in during your older child's tenure at TCS

FAQs:

Q: How are enrollment decisions made?

A: Enrollment decisions are based on a number of needs including the number of spaces available in any given year; the importance of balancing each classroom by gender and age; parents' commitment to the school; our commitment to diversity; and; the balance of full-time and part-week children. We make every attempt to enroll not only siblings of currently enrolled children, but also siblings of alumni children.

Q: Aren't there the same number of spaces available every year?

A: In Bluebirds that is true, because we are starting with a clean slate. For Stars (3's-4's) and Rainbows (4's-5's), however, the "rising" children (those currently enrolled who are staying the following year) have first choice of schedule preferences for their next year of enrollment. After we accommodate them as best we can, we then fill in any other spaces available from our applicant pool.

Q: Does this mean that alumni siblings might not get in or might not get their first schedule choice?

A: In a typical year, we hope all siblings would get in! However, this is always based on the number of current and alumni siblings applying for a specific classroom in a year, balanced against how many spaces we will have available in that classroom that year.

Q: I was offered a space last year but didn't take it. Will I for sure get in the following year?

A: Every single year we must consider each class from a new perspective. Therefore, getting offered space one year doesn't mean you will be automatically offered space the following year, as there may not be as many spaces to offer, there might be alumni or current siblings applying who have higher preference, etc.

Q: Once I am accepted, does that mean that I automatically have space the next year, in the next older classroom?

A: As a "rising child" your child will have space at our school in the next year's classroom; see next Q/A re: schedule.

Q: Do I get to keep the same part-week schedule each year as my child moves to the next classroom?

A: While we guarantee that all "rising children" will be offered space in the next year's classroom, we cannot guarantee the schedule offered will be the same. We make every attempt to accommodate the schedule requests made by families of "rising children." However, we must balance the needs of the school in balancing the number of full-time and part-week schedules we can accommodate in any one classroom. Therefore, a specific schedule is not promised from one year to the next. Additionally, we do not offer a part-week schedule in our Rainbows (PreK) classroom.
